SEATTLE SCHOOLS WILL NOT PLAY EASTERNERS

Authorities Line Up With Objections Raised in East on Proposed Football Games.

Seattle, Dec. 11.—There will be no football game between teams representing Englewood high school of Chicago or Ann Arbor high school of Ann Arbor, Mich., and the Lincoln high school of Seattle on New Year's day or any other day if the school authorities of Seattle can prevent it.

This was the announcement made today by Frank B. Cooper, superintendent of the Seattle schools, following the receipt of a letter from J. N. Slauson, superintendent of schools at Ann Arbor, stating that professional promoters are trying to induce the school boys of Ann Arbor to make a trip to Seattle to play football against the wishes of the school authorities in those cities.

Superintendent Cooper said today that he would refuse permission from any of the Seattle high school teams to meet teams from Chicago or Ann Arbor unless the contracts bear the signatures of principals of the schools represented by the teams. If the Seattle boys violate the order of Superintendent Cooper, they will be barred from participating in any other high school athletic events.

UTAH FOOTBALL LEADERS

Victor Oleson (on left) and William Horne, who yesterday was named by his teammates to captain the 1910 University of Utah eleven to succeed Captain Oleson.

At the meeting of the University of Utah football squad for 1909 at the Cooley studio Saturday afternoon, when the men met to have the official football picture of the year taken, William "Tink" Horne, member of the Utah football squad for the past three years, was elected captain of the 1910 team by a unanimous vote. After the men had posed for the picture, Horne and Grant, the two eligible candidates, stepped down the street. In their absence Coach Joe Maddock asked each man to write upon a slip of paper the name of the man he desired to make a candidate for the captaincy the coming year. When the votes were opened it was found that all had selected Horne.

Horne and Grant were both three-year men and both have done excellent service for the university while members of the squad in the past three years. Horne was captain of the entire season. With Horne as captain the place of the team leader will still remain in the tackle position, where it was this year with Captain Oleson. The captain-elect is one of the best football men ever developed at the university. Before going to the university he played three years as tackle on the Salt Lake high school. Upon going to the university he succeeded in winning the position of tackle the first year and has since held down that place. On this year's team Horne was the heaviest man in the line, weighing 192 pounds. He is a heavy player. During his three years at the university he has played through every game in which the university took part, although at times badly injured. He is popular with the men on the team and knows all the finer points of the game.

RUTT AND CLARKE WINNERS AFTER BRILLIANT RIDE IN SIX-DAY RACE

FINAL SCORE.

Rutt-Clarke, 2,660 miles, 1 lap; Root-Folger, 2,660 miles; Walthour-Collins, 2,660 miles; Hill-Stein, 2,660 miles; Halstead-Hehr, 2,659 miles 9 laps; Mitten-West, 2,659 miles, 9 laps; Lawson-Demara, 2,659 miles, 8 laps; Georget-Georget, 2,659 miles, 6 laps; Anderson-Van Oni, 2,631 miles, 5 laps.

The record for the race is 2,737 miles, one lap, made by MacFarland and Moran in 1908.

New York, Dec. 11.—Walter Rutt of Germany and "Jackie" Clarke of Australia won the annual six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden tonight from an exhausted and hopeless field. Their distance of 2,660.1 miles for 142 hours, gives no adequate idea of a race which for broken records, broken precedents and broken teams, has been the most exciting ever seen at the garden.

STANLEY IS BANTAM CHAMP, SAY ENGLISH

English sporting writers are taking exception to the fact that the Monte Attell-Danny Webster match is labeled a bantam-weight championship bout. A London paper claims that honor for Digby Stanley, who has the following to say on the subject:

"It was heard with surprise the other day that the contest between Danny Webster and Monte Attell was for the bantam-weight championship of the world. This remarkable piece of intelligence is not quite correct. Perhaps Stanley, who, until this news was flashed across the cables, had always labored under the impression that he was in the running for that honor. Seeing that Moran, to use an Americanism, made a monkey of Monte Attell on his first visit to the States, and Digby Stanley has twice beaten Moran, just how Monte Attell came to be fighting for the world's title is not quite apparent. Perhaps Moran can explain. It is rare indeed to find an American boxer at a loss for an explanation. He can always talk, even if he cannot fight very much."

AT TAMPA.

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 11.—The feature of today's card was the defeat of T. M. Green in the handicap race at six furlongs, in which he ran a very disappointing race, finishing last. Summary:

PIRATES TO HAVE EARLY TRAINING ON COAST

Pittsburg, Dec. 11.—The Pittsburg champions will likely not train at Hot Springs this coming spring, but instead will train at San Francisco, and will play their spring practice games on the coast. President Barney Dreyfus has received an offer from Jack Gleason of San Francisco to train in the hall park at San Francisco, and so impressed is the champions' owner with

THREE THINGS NEEDED TO MEET PORTLAND CRACK

Giants' Manager Says Good Pitchers, Base Runners and Hitters Are Required to Win.

Baltimore, Dec. 11.—"There are three things that are absolutely necessary, and there might be others," says John McGraw, manager of the New York Nationals.

"No ball club can be a champion," he went on to explain, "unless it has a great pitching staff, a squad of fast men on the bases and a club of good hitters. Then, again," said the witty little chief of the Giants, "there is a certain kind of feeling that must pervade the whole team. It is a pretty hard thing to describe, but it is something like each man pulling for the other and all of them believing that the combination is a winner."

"Some men have what we call ball playing instinct," Mac remarked by way of explanation. "They seem to know exactly what to do at the right time and do not have to take time to consider. They are natural ball players, and their peculiar minds direct them what to do without any effort. I have seen some young men who were highly educated and brilliant conversationalists who were regular blockheads on a ball club. It was not that they didn't have the brains. If given plenty of time they could probably outwit the others, but in baseball we must have the man who can think and act simultaneously on the jump. Thoughts must come to him in a flash and not after mature deliberation. That's what I mean by quick thinkers, and they are the boys that must be on a team that wins a championship."

"As I said, there are three requisites—good pitching, base running and heavy hitting, and the greatest of these is the wallop."

IS SOCCER TO BE GAME?

Critics Say English Sport Not Only to Supplant Football, but to Equal Baseball.

In the fusillade of shots now being fired at intercollegiate football occasionally reference is being made to the association or soccer code, and some college officials have taken it upon themselves to assert that soccer never will supplant the intercollegiate code at the colleges.

The devotees of the kicking code never have asserted such wild claims, but they do assert that it will supplant the intercollegiate code as a public sport and in time take as much a lead as professional baseball does over college baseball. Outside of the universities, colleges and schools, intercollegiate football holds little sway—in fact, it has lost ground in the last few years. It is entirely too strenuous for the ordinary boy or man to play. Soccer football, on the other hand, can be played by the clerk who sits at his desk six days in the week or by the mechanic who works at his trade every day. It can be played by the youngster in knickerbockers and by the man with a family. It is the game for the million, and, above all, it is an open-air sport. Scoffing critics have classed it as "gentle" and "lady-like," but the man who has been through minutes of hard play knows better and can afford to smile at the efforts of the detractors of a game that has become the national sport of Great Britain, that is played in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, Belgium, Germany, Holland, Austria, and a number of other countries and which is growing faster than most people realize in the United States. It takes just as long to develop a soccer star as it does a first-class baseball player, and the high-class kickers are just as rare as the top-notch men of the diamond sport.

THEY LACKED EXPERIENCE

Carlisle Redskins Lost Games Because of New Men—1910 Outlook Is Bright.

Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 11.—The Carlisle Indian football team was an entirely representative of the Indian student body and the work of the players commendable in every way, the principal fault of the aborigines being an unsteadiness due to inexperience. The Indians played a clean game and the difficulty between Waseuka and Umpire Edwards was the only unpleasant feature of the season. While the schedule was a hard one, it was lighter than usual and no post-season games were played. In fact, it is not likely that the Indians will play post-season games in the future.

The season which closed for the Redskins is not deemed a failure by any means. Carlisle, notwithstanding the loss of a couple of events which the Redskins had hoped to win. Coach Warner developed quite a lot of green material, owing to his having a bare nucleus of two men left over from the year around which to group an eleven. The famous Indian coach thinks that he will have a somewhat stronger team next year, although he will lose a tower of strength in Waseuka, who has played four years, and possibly Libby and Germain and one or two others.

The Indians elected as their captain for next year Peter Houser, one of the most powerful backfielders Carlisle has ever had. His experience in backfield and line work covered his preparatory school record at Haskell in the years '03, '04 and '05. He was out of school in '06, coming to Carlisle in '07, where he has now played three years. He is 24 years old and is a Cheyenne Indian from Pawhuska, Okla. He weighs 180 pounds and is 5 feet 9 inches tall.

AMERICAN LEAGUE HAS MANY BENCH MANAGERS

New York, Dec. 4.—With the signing of Hugh Duffy by the Chicago club every team in the American league has a bench manager. This is in almost direct contrast to the National league, where five of the eight managers are active players. The White Sox were the last to give in, Sullivan being the only player-manager during the past season.

This means that every manager of the American league believes that better results can be gained with a manager who sits on the bench and directs the plays from there. But an argument, the world's title, is being used by the National league to keep the players from the bench. Two seasons it was held by the Cubs, won from Detroit, which had Jennings, a bench manager, now Pittsburgh, led by a playing boss in Fred Clarke, has captured the bunting from Detroit.

For years it has been the team with the playing manager that has won the highest honors. Two seasons it was held by the Cubs, won from Detroit, which had Jennings, a bench manager, now Pittsburgh, led by a playing boss in Fred Clarke, has captured the bunting from Detroit.

MAY LAND THIRD PLACE INTERNATIONAL RIFLE SHOOT DEFI ACCEPTED

Cincinnati Club Has Hopes—Young Players Make Good for Next Season.

Cincinnati, Nov. 27.—Keep your eye on the Cincinnati Reds next season! This remark is not prompted or subsidized by Frank C. Bancroft, for two decades the business manager of the Reds.

The facts seem to warrant the admonition. This person Clark Griffith is a master workman. He joined the best of them in turn last season, and his work was so good that Garry Herrmann made him a present of $1,000. Next season Griffith will have a better line on his material. Practically all his young players made good and the team is composed largely of young ones. Next season these youngsters will be a year older, and just that much riper in experience.

When it comes to winning the pennant, Cincinnati would appear to have a mighty slim chance, next season, that is. But it would not be surprising were the Redlegs to crowd the Giants down into the last place in the upper division and finish third.

Chicago and Pittsburgh look like the contenders for the 1910 pennant. It is hard to figure New York in the fight, and the Giants are not likely to cause much worry to the Cubs and the Pirates, unless McGraw succeeds in uncovering one or two young "phenoms" between now and the joyous springtime, or hits upon some other means of strengthening his club.

The Giants were an awful frost last season. The deal whereby "Bugs" Raymond went to New York and the Giants parted with the peerless Broomfield and the failure to land Donlin did more to beat the Giants than did the Cubs and Pirates.

Raymond was a failure. Donlin's absence weakened the outfield and Broomfield took the ginger to St. Louis with him.

Furthermore, it is hard to win a pennant with one pitcher. At this distance it is hard to figure the Giants in the race next season unless something occurs in the meantime to change the complexion of the Brush bunch.

ILLINOIS A. C. AGAINST MARATHON RUNNING

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Holding that the long grinds are too much of a strain and injurious to the runners, the athletic committee and directors of the Illinois Athletic club have decided to drop the annual Marathon of that body, and formal action to this effect is scheduled for the January meeting of the officials. This movement means the end of long-distance running for the Illinois Athletic club and the discouragement of any such feats in its membership.

DEMAREST'S FAST CLIMB

Chicago Billiard Wonder, Holder of World's Title, Only Heard From Since 1906.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—When Calvin Demarest defeated George Sutton at New York and became the recognized world's champion at 18-inch ballroom, two shots in, the most meteoric rise in the history of the game had reached its climax. On all sides Demarest is being hailed as the greatest of all billiard players. He is being set on a pinnacle above the lamented Frank Iyer, Wizard Jack Schaefer, and even the sensational Willie Hopper, the other boy wonder of the game.

The phenomenal thing about Demarest's march to the championship has been the short time it took him to get to the top rung of the billiard ladder. Early in 1906 the youngster first came into the public eye.

He was not good enough, though, to meet the crack amateurs of the land in the national tournament which was held in Chicago that year. It was thought, in that contest, Wright, the California expert, Foggensburg and Gardner from the east and Conklin of Chicago, then champion, were entered. At the last moment Demarest was named to compete, it being believed that the competition would do him good. He did not win that time, but he gave a phenomenal exhibition of billiards and showed splendid nerve.

"Demarest is a second Jack Schaefer," says the veteran Tom Foley, Foley is known as the "father of billiards," and probably knows more about the history of the game than any man living. "I have always looked upon Demarest as a comer, for he has the nerve, the endurance and the skill. To look at him play you would almost imagine you were seeing Schaefer in his best days."

"It will be a long time before Demarest is beaten, I believe. Now that he has been what he can do he will be a hard man to beat. He has considered Demarest a formidable foe for the past two years, and his belief was surely demonstrated on Friday night."

Had Good Sport

Eureka, Dec. 11.—Utah as a deer hunting state of late years has not been included in the blue book of hunting fields, and yet one party at least found good sport. About three weeks ago a party of Eureka hunters, thirty in all, spent two weeks on a hunting and fishing trip in the Strawberry valley country. They found an abundance of small game and plenty of fish. They were after deer, however, and a grand total of eleven heads were brought home as proof of their skill as hunters and incidentally as showing that Utah has deer as well as ducks.

The picture shows Dr. Fouts with a three-prong buck shot within 300 yards of the camp.

The others in the party were Del Roberts, C. E. Hulsh, H. C. Don Charles, Otto Schwartz, Frank Davis, Percy Hanks, Edward Bonner, Claude Dennis, Hy Scott, James Morgan and Ralph Kellogg.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Gas Schoenlein, better known as "Americus," the Baltimore wrestler, matched to meet Mahmoud, disposed of three aspiring men in quick time here last night. He was billed to throw his opponents in thirty minutes. Americus beat Harry Fields in two minutes, Herman Miller in one minute and thirty seconds and John Dorey in three minutes.
